

+91 (0) 821 428 8765 | mail@inf.in

informedia
TECHNOLOGIES (MYSORE) PRIVATE LIMITED

Technology Consulting |

Software Solutions |

Open Source |

Web Design |

Artwork |

New Media |

Training |

onecompany severalsolutions

www.informedia.co.in

Networking Solutions, Security, Consulting

Internet Router/Firewall |

Every organisation needs internet connectivity. Any type of internet connection needs to be shared and shared efficiently. Some organisations may have more than two connections. Our services include consulting for setting up internet gateway services, connection sharing, redundant link setup, authentication and authorisation, setup website filters to limit inappropriate sites, anti-virus, usage reports. The firewall services include Packet Filters, Browsing filters, Intrusion Detection systems, Bandwidth controllers.

Email Systems |

We provide end-to-end consulting and provisioning facilities for organisation wide email systems. Features of email systems include: Mail Exchange Systems, Unlimited email accounts, Web based access, Anti-Virus, Anti-Spam, Multi-Domains, High Degree of Customisability.

Instant Messengers |

We consult for deploying organisation-wide instant messenger system. Be within your co-workers reach continuously even if you are away from your desk. Announcements, one-to-one file transfers are also made very easy with Instant Messengers.

Office File/Authentication Servers |

We provide consulting for deploying office servers that include file server, authentication server (PDC/BDC), multimedia servers, local knowledge bases, document management systems. We also provide the knowhow and management expertise to setup policies and keep an audit of IT systems

| Security Consulting

We provide comprehensive network auditing services including identification of threats, vulnerabilities, holes. We help you understand your network, plan for eventualities, choose products, comply with standards & regulations, keep up with the times so that you are not caught offguard. We also conduct network forensics, wherein you can discover anomalies, reasons for attacks and prepare for the future.

| Remote Infrastructure Support

We understand that maintaining a highly skilled team of experts inhouse is not only a costly affair, but inconvenient because of scarcity of skilled people. We offer to maintain your network infrastructure remotely. We can develop a custom process for your requirements based on our past experiences and by adopting best practices.

| Developer Tools: Subversion

Subversion is being used in various organisations for storing and maintaining version control on source code, office documents, binary files and many other data. We start with introducing how SVN works and might benefit your organisation. We provide introductory and user training, deployment services, per project or per issue consulting for Subversion.

| Developer Tools: Bugzilla

Bugzilla is a world leader in Issue tracking systems. We provide our services to deploy, consult, train users and managers in all aspects of Bugzilla. We also can customise Bugzilla for your environment & requirements.

Websites, Design, Branding, Web Promotion

Custom Web Design |

We work closely with you to decide on a custom colour scheme, layout and design that reflects your business the way you want it to. From executive web design to creative web design, we custom design your site so that it appeals to you and your target audience.

Professional Web Development |

We develop simple informational websites to database driven sites, our team provides professional development that makes your website work for you. If you are not entirely sure what kind of development is required to meet your goals, we can assist you in making an informed decision.

Website Content Management |

Content management is something you may not have considered if you have never owned a website. You will find it is very important that you are able to adjust or add to your content without having to mess with the code and without having to re-hire your web designer to do it for you. We provide each website we create with an online content management system which provides the freedom to add pages, edit your content, and update your site anytime.

Website Promotion |

In this age of information glut, when websites are dime a dozen and every individual website is screaming for attention, ensuring your website is well known on the web, easily available in search engine results is a must. We not only advise but also implement certain promotion activities and tune your website so that it stands out of the crowd in its own majestic way.

| Usability & User Interface Design

We excel in designing applications and other Web-based products. Our success comes from understanding and analysing the cognitive needs of the individual audiences visiting our clients' sites or using their products.

| Product & Industrial Design

To be successful in today's commodity marketplace, a product must have a character and personality of its own. Moreover, the product's form must instantly reveal how it works, and convince consumers that it is safe to use. The more complex the product, the more critical it becomes that its operation be both simple and logical. In short, successful design requires knowledge, intuition.

| Presentations

Using a blend of media in the form of an online demonstration, corporate presentation or support tool is a proven way to both engage an audience and concisely convey complex messages to individuals representing a wide range of experience levels. In order to produce this type of tool effectively, marketing messages and brand presentation within the demo must work in a unified fashion to clearly convey the unique qualities that differentiate a client's offerings from their competitors.

| Artwork & Illustrations

Conceptual graphics that visually represent the elements of products and/or services offer companies an effective and compelling way to communicate value propositions without overwhelming their users.

information, technology, solutions informedia was conceptualised and started to be a provider of apt information and invigorating knowledge as value based services to the academic, professional and student communities. informedia now caters to a slew of client base from its original target groups to top notch corporates, governmental and non-governmental organisations, special interest communities and others. informedia has over two decades of experience in this field of information analysis and dissemination services. informedia now provides enterprise consulting, web based business solutions, marketing, sales and support services in cutting edge technologies. informedia is backed by a strong team, who are totally involved and highly competitive in their respective areas of specialisations.

Web Design & Development
Online branding
2D/3D Animation
System integration
Business consulting
Usability study & analysis
Application Development
Search engine optimization

Training
Networking
Content Management
CRM Solutions
PHP Consulting & Training
Data Conversion
B2B Lead Generation
Data Processing/Management

informedia
TECHNOLOGIES (MYSORE) PRIVATE LIMITED

First Floor, 'Aparna Arcades', 8th Cross, Adipampa Road, V.V. Mohalla, Mysore, Karnataka, India 570 002
Tel : 91 (0) 821 428 8765 E-mail : mail@inf.in